

addressed the audience and shared her views on the need to alleviate poverty housing. "A lot of people in this country and across the world really suffer because they do not have a roof over their head. As the youth of this country we can make a huge difference because we can take things forward", said the actress. "Let's support Habitat for homes and empower people to have dignity and self-respect." The concert provided a platform to introduce BITS Pilani students to Habitat's 5-nation Youth BUILD Campaign. Aditi Rao Hydari invited students to popularize the campaign through their social media networks and raise their voice for the cause of the homeless in India and the world.
